REPORT OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

On behalf of the Board of Directors of Lanna Resources Public Company Limited, I would like to take this opportunity to report to the shareholders with regard to the financial status and operating results of the Company and affiliated companies for the past year 2013, which had a satisfactory net income despite the falling coal prices and economic and political crisis. According to the consolidated financial statements, the Company and its affiliated companies had total revenue of Baht 12,163.96 million with net income of Baht 572.29 million or net earnings per share of Baht 1.09. In comparison with year 2012, the revenue decreased by Baht 1,285.33 million or a decrease of 9.56 percent and the net income decreased by Baht 339.26 million or a decrease of 37.22 percent. The revenue proportion from sales of coal and ethanol accounted for 86.33 percent and 13.67 percent, respectively, with net income proportion from the coal business and the ethanol business accounting for 84.42 percent and 15.58 percent, respectively.

For the coal business which is the Company's core business, the total revenue in 2013 was Baht 10,473.08 million, a decrease from the previous year by Baht 1,537.17 million or 12.80 percent, and the net income was Baht 708.92 million, a decrease of Baht 493.62 million from the previous year or a decrease of 41.05 percent with an increase in coal sales volume of 7.73 percent but with a decrease in coal sale price of 19.05 percent. The Company currently owns and operates a total of two coal mine concessions in Indonesia with total coal production capacity of approximately 6 million metric tons per year. The remaining concession periods for the first and second coal concession are approximately 17 years and 25 years, respectively. Nonetheless, the Company has been actively seeking to invest in new coal concession projects, but none was completed in 2013 because the coal business was still in decline according to the abovementioned economic crisis and falling coal price. The Company needs to consider carefully and invest in the coal concession in appropriate time. The shareholders shall be informed of the progress accordingly.

For the ethanol business which is the Company's secondary core business, the total revenue in 2013 was Baht 1,659.05 million, or an increase from the previous year by Baht 309.19 million or 22.91 percent, having a net income of Baht 117.68 million, a decrease from the previous year by Baht 46.39 million, with an increase in ethanol sales volume of 0.01 percent and an increase in ethanol selling price of 24.07 percent. This was due to the fact that the price of molasses, which is the major cost of ethanol production, increased by 42.86 percent. The ethanol plant, which is located in Dan Chang District, Suphanburi Province, currently has two production lines, with total ethanol production capacity of 350,000 liters per day, using molasses as the main raw material. Both ethanol production lines have been granted special investment promotion privileges according to the Investment Promotion Act, B.E. 2520 (1977).

The Extraordinary General Meeting of Shareholders of Lanna Resources Public Co., Ltd. ("Lanna") No. 1/2013 on September 18, 2013 has approved the spin-off plan for the listing of Thai Agro Energy Public Co., Ltd. in the Stock Exchange of Thailand with newly issued ordinary shares of 200,000,000 shares and ordinary shares originally held by Lanna of 96,037,733 shares, totaling 296,037,733 shares by initial public offering with 191,000,000 shares, or 64.52 percent of the offered shares, and by pre-emptive right of the shareholders of Lanna with 105,037,733 shares, or 35.48 percent of the offered shares. The purpose was to raise fund required for improvement on the production and the distribution of ethanol for fuel and also as working capital in the future. The transactions should occur in 2014, resulting in a reduction of shareholding proportion of Lanna in TAE from 75.75 percent to 51 percent of the paid-up capital after the completion of the spin-off plan. Regardless, TAE shall still remain a subsidiary company of Lanna.

The Company's overall financial status and liquidity were still considered satisfactory. The current ratio was at 1.73 times, but the total debt to total assets ratio was only 40.95 percent and the debt to equity ratio was only 69.35 percent.

The Company's Board of Directors has endeavored to manage the business and resolve any problem with prudence by adhering to the principles of good corporate governance, which has enabled the Company to overcome obstacles and achieve good operating results continuously. Accordingly, the Board of Directors shall cautiously and carefully consider the Company's investments and business development to achieve long term sustainable and stable development.

COAL BUSINESS

Coal Characteristics

Coal is a fossil fuel, consisting of volatile matter, inherent moisture and important combustible mixture of carbon. After combustion with the volatile matter and inherent moisture driven out, small portion of coal ash remains. Coal is found in various forms or grades based on the contents of heating or calorific value, volatile matter and fixed carbon, representing in descending order of quality in 4 groups from (1) anthracite, (2) bituminous, (3) sub-bituminous, and (4) lignite. The indigenous coal deposits in that have been explored and extensively developed for local industries in Thailand are generally of lignite grade. Imported coal is mostly of bituminous grade which contains higher calorific value than lignite coal produced in Thailand.

The price of coal is usually determined based on the quality of coal, consisting of calorific value, moisture, volatile matter, fixed carbon, ash, sulfur and size.

Coal Production

Coal is formed in several stages from plant remains that have been compacted, hardened, chemically altered and metamorphosed by heat and pressure over millions of years. Therefore, in order to develop a coal mine, coal exploration works are required for the collection and interpretation of geological data in order to learn about the thickness of coal seams, boundary areas of the coal resource, chemical content and quality, and economic reserve estimation. The development of coal deposit is generally based on the information and data obtained from these exploration programs. Accordingly, the production of coal consists of following 3 major steps:

(1) Coal Exploration: The exploration program begins with the preliminary collection and analysis of the land surface and geological data at the target areas. Subsequently, fieldwork includes scout drilling to study the formation and type of soil and rock, and geological structure of the target areas to ascertain that there exists the coal deposit with further assessment of coal quality and reserve estimation for economic analysis to facilitate a decision for further development of the coal mine.

(2) Coal Mining: Before proceeding with coal mining operation, more detail drilling activities are required to collect and interpret necessary information and data of the mining areas; such as, coal reserves and quality for each of the coal seam formations including soil layers. The collected data and information will be used to determine the mine master plan which includes the analysis of mining costs and mining methods, as well as the quantity and areas for overburden removal and coal winning logistics, and also selection of suitable mining equipment and machinery.

(3) Coal Dressing: In order to attain the quality as required by the users or customers, coal extracted from the coal mining operation need to go through coal dressing process which includes crushing, sizing, sorting and washing to remove any contaminations, etc.

Coal Pricing Policy

Coal pricing is mainly determined by its heating value, similar to other type of fuels. Coal sale price for each customer varies depending on certain factors such as order volume, coal specifications such as calorific value, credit term and other conditions specified by the customer. These factors shall be used to determine the coal price fairly and similarly with all the customers. The price for imported coal is based on the agreement with each customer which can either be priced on FOB or CIF basis, or priced as delivered to the customer’s factory, etc.

Coal Distribution

For coal distribution in the domestic market, the Company directly sells coal directly to customers without going through agent. As for the overseas market, coal are sold directly to the customers or through coal trading agents, mostly on the credit term basis, of which the Company carefully provides credit terms only for the long time customers with stable financial status. For new customers, the Company protects the risk by having a letter of credit (L/C) opened by the customer. Since the start of operation in 1985, the Company has encountered very few bad debts from the sales of coal.

Competitive Strategy

The Company focuses mainly on the service and quality control of the coal products as its marketing strategy rather than relying on pricing strategy. In addition, the Company has continually developed ways to produce high quality coal by bringing in modern technology for continuing improvement of coal production and operation.

Competition

The domestic coal distribution business has been recognized as an oligopoly market with only a few numbers of operators, having group of large industrial customers. Major competitor for the group of large industrial customers is Banpu Public Co., Ltd. As for the medium and small industrial customers, Energy Earth Public Co., Ltd., Unique Mining Services Public Co., Ltd., and Asia Green Energy Public Co., Ltd. are the main competitors. Since the Company has its own coal deposits with high quality coal and decades of mineable reserves, the Company therefore possesses sufficient competitive advantage and potential.

Industrial Trend

Coal can be used as a substitute for almost every kind of fuel, depending mainly on the convenience of utilization and demand on heating energy. The trend of coal consumption is still growing as the price of oil and other sources of fuel are still significantly more costly than coal. Coal prices during 2011-2013 had decreased significantly and it is expected that coal prices in 2014 will still fluctuate and move around the low level due to excess supply of coal but should start to increase around the end of the year 2014 in line with economic condition of the world which should start to recover.

ETHANOL BUSINESS

Ethanol, also known as ethyl alcohol, is derived from digestion of starch to sugar (in case of starch raw material), and fermentation to convert sugar to alcohol; and then followed by distillation and dehydration to produce alcohol at the desired purity, up to 99.5% by volume. The raw materials of this process are agricultural products of starch and sugar crops, such as cassava, sugar cane, molasses and corn. The molecular formula of ethanol is C_2H_5OH with a boiling point at around $78^{\circ}C$. In general, its properties are transparent liquid, colorless, flammable, and high octane fuel. Since ethanol contains up to 35 percent of oxygen, it can be blended with gasoline at an appropriate amount to produce a clean and complete combustible fuel and reduce air pollution with less formation of hydrocarbon compound, carbon monoxide (CO) and carbon dioxide (CO_2), which is the main cause of green house effect, including reduction of black smoke, aromatics and benzene compound, which should be beneficial to the environment.

Ethanol is used to replace MTBE (Methyl Tertiary Butyl Ether), a fuel additive, to increase the octane value of gasoline. Nonetheless, MTBE is also harmful for causing carbon monoxide in the earth atmosphere and contamination to the underground water supply. As a result, it has been banned by several countries due to its impact on air pollution. Most importantly, Thailand has to spend several billion Baht annually for the import of MTBE.

Production of Ethanol for Fuel

Thai Agro Energy Co., Ltd. produces ethanol for fuel by using molasses and cassava as its main raw material. The ethanol production process consists of four main stages as follows:

(1) Mash Preparation: each type of raw material requires different processes as follows:

(a) Molasses: Preparation of molasses before fermentation by dilution with water for suitable concentration and added with acidic additive, causing organic substance or salt to settle from the molasses solvent.

(b) Cassavas: Prior fermentation, cassavas are cleaned to eliminate contaminants including metal and dirt. Subsequently, clean cassavas are mashed and mixed with water to make starch paste, then to be digested with enzyme, converting starch to sugar, before proceeding to fermentation.

(2) Fermentation: Solvent from the first stage is fed to fermentation tanks with yeast being added to convert sugar into alcohol.

(3) Distillation: Fermentation mash from the second stage is fed to the distillation column to separate contaminants and water producing about 96 percent pure alcohol which is the maximum concentration that can be achieved through this normal fermentation process. The remaining 4 percent of water shall be removed by the final stage.

(4) Dehydration: The water removal process for producing the dehydrated alcohol from the distillation process into 99.5 percent pure alcohol. Water content is absorbed by zeolites molecular sieves in two dehydration units. The dehydrated alcohol will then be distilled and cooled down before being stored for further distribution.

Ethanol Pricing Policy

The Energy Policy and Planning Office (EPPO) has set reference pricing to be used in the price negotiation between the buyers and sellers. The formula for the reference pricing is based on the average ethanol trade volumes and prices and has been effective since June 2013. The details are as follows:

\bar{P}_{Eth} is the Reference Ethanol Pricing (Baht per liter) which is announced on the 1st day of the month.

Q_i is the volume of ethanol produced from cassava or molasses that producers sell to oil companies accordingly to section 7 of Fuel Trade Act B.E. 2543.

P_i is the price of ethanol produced from cassava or molasses that producers sell to oil companies accordingly to section 7 of Fuel Trade Act B.E. 2543.

n is the number of ethanol selling transactions.

The determination of ethanol selling price is based on cost-plus-margin basis. Apart from the reference price announced by EPPO, other factors are considered, including, ethanol raw material price, supply and demand, and domestic and international competition.²

Ethanol Distribution

In compliance with the regulation of the Excise Department, the ethanol product sold to oil companies must undergo denaturation process, in which ethanol of at least 99.5 percent by volume is mixed with 91 gasoline of 0.5 percent by volume. The result is denatured ethanol that can be sold to oil companies according to section 7 of Fuel Trade Act B.E. 2543. After the termination of gasoline 91, gasohol 91 is used instead. The denatured ethanol purchased by the oil companies is then blended with gasoline at 10, 20 or 85 percent to become the Gasohol E10, E20 or E85. While most customers are responsible for the transportation of ethanol, the sellers are responsible for the transportation to the storages of a few other customers. Most of the sales are on credit term basis, and the customers are large oil companies with stable financial status. Therefore, the risk of bad debt is minimal.

Competitive Strategy

Priorities are to given to service and quality control of the products which have earned customers' trust, making it possible to retain majority of the market share.

Ethanol Industrial Trend

In order to reduce the import of fuel from overseas, ethanol is one of the various types of renewable energy being supported by the Government to be used instead of gasoline. With the continuous increase of global crude oil prices and the increasing domestic fuel demand, Thailand has incurred a large amount of trade deficit due to the reliance on imported crude oil of more than 80 percent of the domestic demand. Accordingly, the Department of Energy has developed the Alternative Energy Development Plan (AEDP). It lays out the direction and the framework for the development of renewable energy in Thailand. The objective is to develop renewable energy as one of the main energy sources of Thailand instead of fossil fuel, decreasing oil import sustainably in the future. The target renewable energy consumption is 25 percent of the total domestic energy consumption. The plan also aims to increase ethanol production from 1.3 million liters per day in 2012 to 9 million liters per day in 2021. Since ethanol is a renewable energy concerning transportation industry, the growth of its market is not as high as other industries. Regardless, the domestic ethanol demand is continuously increasing in line with the continued increase of domestic gasohol consumption, from 9.26 million liters per day in 2008 to 12.17 million liters per day in 2012, or an average growth of 7.07 percent per year – thanks to the promotion of the Government concerning renewable energies, including gasohol. Likewise, the domestic ethanol consumption is increasing as well; from 0.93 million liters per day in 2008 to 1.37 million liter per day in 2012, or an average growth of 10.17 percent per year. As for 2013, the ethanol consumption was 2.57 million liter per day, or a growth of 87.59 percent. This is mainly attributed to the termination of Gasoline 91 on January 1, 2013, requiring motorists to use gasohol instead, and the volume of ethanol used in gasohol significantly increased as a result.

Competition

Currently, ethanol produced to market in Thailand is from 21 plants, with total capacity of 3,890,000 liters per day, and can be categorized from its raw material as follows:

- (1) Molasses: 14 producers, with total production capacity of 2,410,000 liters per day.
- (2) Cassava: 6 producers, with total production capacity of 1,280,000 liters per day.
- (3) Sugar Cane: 1 producer, with total production capacity of 200,000 million liters per day.

Additionally, three ethanol production plants are under construction, with total production capacity of 1,370,000 liters per day. After their completion, the domestic total ethanol production capacity will be 5,260,000 liters per day.

Domestic ethanol demand is still lower than the total production capacity. In 2012, the daily ethanol production was 1.79 million liters per day, but the ethanol demand was only 1.37 million liters per day. The excess supply was thus exported overseas. In general, the domestic ethanol price is higher than the export price. As a result, ethanol producers all strive to improve the quality of their products and services in order to keep or gain more market share. As for TAE, the produced ethanol is all sold to domestic oil companies. It focuses on improving its production technology in order to produce cost-effective, high quality ethanol. Market share of TAE is increasing continuously: from 7.37 percent in 2010 to 13.33 percent in 2012. In 2013, the domestic ethanol demand increased by 87.59 percent, or almost doubled of year 2012. As a result, the market share of TAE has decreased to 7.12 percent. Regardless, TAE has planned to operate its two ethanol production plants at full capacity in 2014, and its market share should be improved in the following years.

On behalf of the Risk Management Committee

(Mr. Pilas Puntakosol)

Chairman of the Risk Management Committee

RISK FACTORS

In 2013, Lanna Resources Public Co., Ltd. and its subsidiary companies conducted acceptable risk evaluation and management to prevent and mitigate possible impact as follows.

Risks in Coal Mining Business

(1) Coal Mining Operation and Coal Procurement Risk: The Company thoroughly conducts proper exploration and assessment activities of the coal deposits to ensure adequate coal reserves for mining. The results of such exploration and assessment are the basis for designing of pit design and mine master plan in accordance with the international principles and standards prior to investment and commencement of coal mining activities. Therefore, risks associated with coal mining operation are mainly from natural occurrences, particularly for the coal deposits in Indonesia which experience heavy rain each year, hampering and delaying coal production and delivery. Accordingly, in order to mitigate such risks, the Company has established policy for the coal operation departments to adequately keep inventory of the finished coals for distribution at the quantity of no less than one to two months of the average annual sales volume projection, according to the obligations from advance coal sale agreements.

(2) Coal Price Fluctuation Risk: Coal prices tend to fluctuate similarly to other types of fuel, depending on market demand and supply, with several factors affecting the coal prices. Although coal prices in 2013 fluctuate less than 2012, a certain portion of coal sales is sold in advance to regulate the production plan. Also, both short-term and mid-term production and coal sales plans are regularly updated in order to minimize any potential negative impact in case of higher production cost. The market and coal price trend are also evaluated regularly in order to determine an appropriate timing of coal price negotiation with customers, either for fixed price and index link, to ensure preferable sale price and certain revenue.

(3) Risk in Coal Deliveries: The risk is mostly from unforeseen incidents, for example, heavy rain or serious malfunction of machineries preventing coal production according to the plan which results in late coal delivery to the customers and demurrage incurred. Lanna has placed great emphasis on this matter to ensure continuous operations by having close communication between sales department and production department, and by utilizing information tracking system in order to determine the production capacity, quality, and stock of coal at all times, allowing preemptive change of production and delivery plans.

(4) Risk from being Dependent on Coal Sales to the Major Customers: A large portion of the Company's revenue is from coal sales of the subsidiary companies in Indonesia. In 2013, the subsidiary companies in Indonesia have been able to find new customers with an aim not to depend on any one customer for more than 30 percent of the sale volume. Additionally, with price of coal lower than other types of fuel, many industrial operators increasingly switches to coal as their source of energy every year, creating supply of new customers.

(5) Risk from Customers' Default on Coal Payment: For the majority of the coal sales of the Company and its subsidiary companies, credit terms are normally extended to quality customers. Nonetheless, the Company has established a Credit Committee for consideration of credit terms for the customers to carefully screen any credit sales. Furthermore, the Company has also set aside a provision for loss from doubtful debt in its accounts by considering the quality and period of outstanding debt in order to avoid any impact to the financial statements in the future for the case of bad debt.

(6) Fuel Product Substitutes Risk: Comparing the price per heat unit with other substituted fuels, such as fuel oil, diesel oil, and natural gas, the price per heat unit of coal is still significantly lower. Therefore, the risk from fuel product substitutes is still considered very low.

(7) Coal Reserve Variation Risk: In order to mitigate the risk concerning coal reserve depletion, the Company has established a policy for the continuous acquisition of additional coal deposits to compensate the amount of coal extracted each year. Moreover, operational audit is performed with the subsidiary companies. This is to warrant appropriate design and production processes for the geographic regions and ore orientation, ensuring that every process of the production is of international standards and highly efficient and allowing complete commercial utilization of coal reserves, according to the Australasian Code for Reporting Mineral Standards (“JORC Code”).

(8) Risk from Mining Contractors’ Operation: The subsidiary companies hire mining contractors for coal winning and therefore, if the mining contractors could not perform their operation as planned – for example, procurement of machinery not according to the plan or inadequate maintenance – there would be adverse impact to the coal production and distribution of the Company and the subsidiary companies. Therefore, in order to prevent such risk, only reliable and experienced mining contractors with good work performance history are hired. The mining contracts entered with more than one contractor and are at least with three-year term to ensure that the contractors have sufficient work for their capital acquisition for machinery purchase and working capital. Additionally, a weekly meeting is held with every contractors to update the operating plan and engage in discussion on any issues.

(9) Risk from policy and regulation changes in the Country in which the Company invested: The subsidiary companies may face the risk from changes in regulations and policies from the government of Indonesia which can affect future operation. During the past 3 years, the government of Indonesia has issued the new mining law that may result in new legislation regarding to tariff or changes to terms in the Coal Contract of Work. This might bring higher cost to coal producers in the future. Moreover, the government of Indonesia has introduced law regarding domestic market obligation (DMO) which requires all domestic coal producers to sell a part of their coal to meet the domestic demand and has imposed price regulation which specifies minimum coal selling prices for export coal to prevent coal producers from selling coal at too low price, which would result in a lower royalty fee for the government. Nevertheless, these measures have not had significant impact to the Company and the subsidiary companies.

(10) Environmental Risk: The Company and affiliated companies have never neglected the good sense and its responsibility to the society, community and environment. Coal operations of the subsidiary companies must adhere to the mine plan and environmental impact analysis report, which have been approved by the authorities. The mined out land must be rehabilitated for improvement of environment, surrounding and ecology system with plantation of trees which are nature conservation. Improvement of surrounding land for several activities such as agricultural area, water reservoirs, residential area, etc. have been carried out by PT. Lanna Harita Indonesia (LHI) and PT. Singlurus Pratama (SGP), subsidiary companies, operating coal mines in Indonesia, having received several environmental-related awards during year 2013 as follows:

- In June 2013, LHI was awarded with the Green Certificate for Excellent Environmental Management from the Governor of East Kalimantan Province of Indonesia, having exceeded the regulation on environmental management.

- In June 2013, LHI was award with the Certificate for Company's effort done for sustainable environmental management in the mining sector from the Mayor of Samarinda City of Indonesia having continuously managed the environment well.

- In November 2013, LHI was awarded with the Bronze Certificate for Environmental Management Year 2013 from the Directorate General of Mineral and Coal of Indonesia having continuously managed the environment well and in compliance with the law.

- In June 2013, SGP was awarded with the Green Certificate for Excellent Environmental Management from the Governor of East Kalimantan Province of Indonesia having continuously managed the environment well and in compliance with the law.

- In November 2013, SGP was awarded with the Mining Environmental Management from the Ministry of Energy and Mineral Resources of Indonesia having continuously managed the environment well and in compliance with the law.

- In November 2013, SGP was awarded with the Safety Management of Mineral and Coal Mining Year 2023 from the Ministry of Energy and Mineral Resources of Indonesia having managed the safety of coal mine operation well and in compliance with the law.

As for the Ayutthaya Coal Distribution Center at Ayutthaya Province, which is the domestic operator, has taken care of the surrounding environment by planting trees around the area to protect against the wind and dust, as well as installing high pressure sprinklers to spray water around the coal stockpile and hauling road areas. Waste water is channeled into the sediment pond so that the sediment will not flow into the public river. Coal hauling trucks are covered with canvases and wheels and tires are cleaned by driving into the water well so to protect them from carrying any scraps onto the public road. Monitoring of air quality and water quality are regularly conducted. In order to contain the dust more effectively, a close system of large silos is being constructed for coal storage with a capacity of 6,000 tons. With expected completion on early 2014, the investment is approximately Baht 40 million. Further construction has been planned for the following years, with a goal for a complete transition of open space storage to close storage in order to minimize the dust generated.

Risks in Ethanol Business

Thai Agro Energy Public Co., Ltd. ("TAE"), a subsidiary company in Thailand, conducts its business in the production and distribution of ethanol-for-fuel for blending with the gasoline at different proportions to become the Gasohol for use in automobiles, namely, E10, E20, and E85. The risks being evaluated and managed in order to prevent and mitigate the impact are as follows:

(1) Risk from Procurement of Main Raw Material

Molasses is the main raw material used to produce ethanol, contributing more than 80 percent to the overall ethanol production cost. Being a byproduct from sugar factories, the volume of molasses produced each year depends on the volume of sugarcane entered into the process of the sugar factories in that year; one ton of sugarcane produces about 45 to 50 kilograms, or 4.5 to 5 percent of the processed sugarcane. Factors to the volume of sugarcane entered into the process include: (a) Amount of land used to plant sugarcane, which varies by the price of sugarcane comparing to other crops, and (b) Yield, which varies by the weather each year.

TAE procured all molasses from domestic producers and/or distributor. In order to mitigate the risk from inadequate molasses for planned ethanol production, the negotiations on the purchases of molasses are done in advance before the harvest season. TAE has taken measures to mitigate the risk concerning molasses procurement as follows:

(A) TAE has a policy to enter into long-term sale and purchase agreement with molasses sellers in order to conclude the volume and delivery schedule of molasses each year. This allows efficient management on molasses inventory and ethanol production. The risk of stoppage or reduced production due to inadequate molasses is also decreased.

(B) The Production Line No. 2 is under modification to enable ethanol production using cassava chips as another type of raw material in order to maximize raw material procurement flexibility; types of raw material can be selected depending on their price trends. The modification is expected to complete within the 2nd quarter of 2014. Cassava chips used as raw material will be procured from neighboring provinces. The quality inspection of cassava chips is circumspect – from the selection a well performed cassava yard to the delivery of cassava chips – to ensure the required quality of cassava chips that is appropriate for ethanol production.

The government has established agricultural zoning policy by encouraging farmers with lands that are inappropriate for rice growing to grow other crops. From the evaluation on lands that have been promoted to grow sugarcane, sugarcane plantation area increases to 4.19 million Rai, and the production of molasses should increase by 2.06 million tons. Meanwhile, sugar factory operators also expand their own sugarcane plantation area by 7.2 million Rai with the next three years (2014 – 2017), and the production of molasses should further increase by 3.54 million tons. Such policy will significantly increase molasses production in the near future, reducing the risk concerning molasses procurement of TAE.

(2) Risk from Fluctuation of Main Raw Material

Molasses is the main raw material used to produce ethanol, contributing more than 80 percent to the overall ethanol production cost, and changes on the price of molasses will have a direct impact to the cost of ethanol production. Varying by the supply and demand and following the same direction as sugarcane and sugar, the price of molasses depends on the sugarcane yield each year, which can be affected by the plantation area and weather. If sugarcane yield is low due to the decrease of plantation area or draught, the national production volume of sugar and molasses will decrease, resulting in higher molasses price. Moreover, molasses price is seasonal; the price is low during the harvest season (from November to May of every year) because the market is saturated with molasses, and the price gradually climbs up as molasses in the market decreases. Therefore, if the molasses price jumps up rapidly, the selling cost and the profit margin may be affected since the selling price may not change at the same rate or higher than the increased cost of raw material. Regardless, TAE determines its ethanol price from appropriate cost plus gross profit. Also, molasses price is constantly monitored in order to approximate the production cost correctly and near the actual result. These measures help reduce the risk concerning the fluctuation of molasses price. Additionally, since TAE is one of the first certified ethanol production and distribution operators, the management is deeply knowledgeable and experienced in the industry, and it has a good relationship with molasses producers/distributors. As a result, the molasses price trend can be forecast reliably. With constant and close monitoring on the volume and price of molasses, its procurement is adequate, and the ethanol production cost is competitive. Moreover, the negotiations on the purchases of molasses are done in advance before the harvest season, and the Production Line No. 2 is under modification to enable ethanol production using cassava chips as another type of raw material in order to maximize raw material procurement flexibility; types of raw material can be selected depending on their price trends.

(3) Risk from being Dependent on Main Raw Material Seller

TAE purchases molasses from Mitr Phol Sugar Company Limited (“Mitr Phol”) as high as 53.65 percent of the total molasses purchase in 2013. The reason is that the sugar factory of Mitr Phol is located nearby the production plants of TAE which helps decrease the cost of molasses. However, the purchase of molasses in such high proportion from Mitr Phol bears some risk in case Mitr Phol cannot deliver molasses at the required amount and as scheduled. The Mitr Phol Group also operates ethanol production and distribution business using molasses as raw material. Recognizing such risk, TAE has entered into an agreement with Mitr Phol to purchase molasses at 200,000 tons annually for 15 years, from 2005 to 2019. It also purchases additional molasses from other sugar factories and/or molasses distributors in order to decrease its dependence on one vendor. Moreover, the Production Line No. 2 is under modification to enable ethanol production using cassava chips as another type of raw material in order to maximize raw material procurement flexibility, allowing efficient cost management. The modification should be completed in 2014.

(4) Risk from being Dependent on Major Customers

TAE operates ethanol-for-fuel production and distribution business in which the ethanol will be blended with gasoline to produce consumer marketed gasohol. As a result, all of the produced ethanol must be sold to customers that are oil companies as defined by Section 7 of Fuel Trade Act B.E. 2543, which includes seven companies the total of ten oil companies in Thailand, for example, PTT Public Co., Ltd.; Bangchak Petroleum Public Co., Ltd.; Esso (Thailand) Public Co., Ltd.; IRPC Public Co., Ltd.; Thairoil Public Co., Ltd.; etc. Thus, it is considered an oligopoly, and TAE endeavors to decrease its reliance on any one customer. Regardless, TAE’s customers are all large oil companies with strong financial status and highly rigid supplier selection procedures, and TAE is one of the selected few ethanol producers and distributors. This is considered a competitive advantage. Moreover, TAE continuously keep a good relationship with its customers by focusing on the production of high quality ethanol and the punctual delivery. With trust from customers, the management is confident that the customer base can be strongly maintained.

(5) Risk from the Government Policy

The Ministry of Energy has established the Alternative Energy Development Plan (AEDP) in order to determine the direction and development framework of renewable energy of Thailand, with an aim to use alternative and renewable energy at 25 percent within 10 years (2012 – 2021), having renewable energy as the main source of energy of Thailand and substituting fossil fuel and sustainably lower the export of oil in the future. Ethanol is one of the renewable energy that the government promotes as a substitute of gasoline. The government aims to promote the production of ethanol to at least 9 million liters within 2021 through various policies, such as, the termination of gasoline 91 effective on January 1, 2013; maintenance of gasohol and gasoline price difference via oil fund; etc. If the government changes such plan, the consumption of gasohol may be affected, which in turn affects the ethanol demand. However, the chance that the government will cancel the promotion on renewable energy production, including ethanol, is very slim because ethanol is a type of renewable energy that can be effectively produced from local, abundant agricultural products including molasses, cassava chips, and sugarcane. Not only the nation reliance on imported fuel is decreased, the agricultural sector is stimulated.

(6) Risk from the Utilization of Biogas as Main Fuel for Steam Generation in the Ethanol Production

TAE uses biogas as main fuel for steam generation in the ethanol production instead of fuel oil. The fuel cost has been greatly decreased. Currently, TAE has two functional biogas pond with total biogas production capacity of 70,000 cubic meters per day. The 1st biogas pond is in service for quite some time and needs repair – it is currently shut down. The construction of the 4th biogas pond was recently complete in December 2013, and the biogas production commenced on January 2014, using modified covered lagoon technology (MCL). It can produce 72,000 cubic meters of biogas per day. Thus, the total biogas produced is 142,000 cubic meters per day, while 126,000 cubic meters per day of biogas is required. It appears that TAE is able to produce adequate biogas required for the ethanol production with a surplus for electricity generation for used in the plants. Regardless, TAE may have some risk from being unable to produce the biogas, for example, a storm causing damage to the biogas ponds, making them not operational. In such case, other fuel must be used instead, such as, fuel oil and palm shell, which bear higher price than the locally produced biogas. Recognizing such risk, TAE has strengthened the structure of the biogas ponds and had a dedicated department that closely monitored steps of biogas production. The equipment and machinery are regularly checked to ensure continuous biogas production.

(7) Risk from the Delay of the Modification of the Production Line No. 2. for Cassava Chips Usage

The construction of Ethanol Production Line No. 2 is utilize technology from Maguin Interis of France in order to increase its ethanol production capacity to 200,000 liters per day using cassava chips as raw material, providing flexibility and reducing risk on raw material usage. The ethanol production cost will also be managed efficiently in that another type of raw material can be used if the other type of raw material has high price. The investment on this project is about Baht 1,300 million, and the construction and equipment installation were finished and the commissioning started in 2011. According to the commissioning results, it was found that the preparation procedure was not fully functional as designed, and Maguin Interis has been periodically rectified the fault found. Maguin Interis will commence the commission again in April 2014, and it is expected that it will be completed and will be ready to produce ethanol from cassava chips in 2014. Regardless, the selection of the type of raw material for the ethanol production of the Production Line No. 2 mainly depends on the production plan and cost of ethanol production. Since April 2012, the Production Line No. 2 has fully passed the commissioning using molasses as raw material and has commercially operated. However, TAE may have the risk from the delay of the ethanol production from cassava chips project, being unable to use an appropriate type of raw material and unable to fully manage the production cost. Moreover, if the equipment in the cassava chip preparation is not performing according to the contract, TAE may have the risk to set allowance for impairment of asset, which may in turn affect the operating results of TAE. Regardless, TAE is confident that it is unlikely that the project will be further delayed since the modification involves only secondary equipment, not the primary equipment.

(8) Risk from Environmental Impact

TAE places emphasis on the environment and have concerns about air, water and noise pollution. The quality of air and noise pollution are constantly and rigorously monitored to ensure compliance with the government's regulations. The spent wash, which is the waste water from ethanol distillation, is undergone a treatment system to ensure satisfactory water quality. According to the Zero Discharge practice, the treated spent wash will not be discharged to the public.

The spent wash from ethanol distillation process is sent to a treatment system using anaerobic digestion in order to digest organic material in the waste water, by which the COD and BOD value can be decrease by 70 percent and 80 percent, respectively. Biogas is also the byproduct of such system, and it is used as fuel for the ethanol production process instead of other types of fuel, such as, fuel oil, palm shell, etc. The treated waste water are transferred to a reservoir within the plant with total capacity of 1,260,000 cubic meters, and some part are sent to a farm of salt water resistant plants to absorb the treated waste water. In the past, TAE never had legal disputes regarding environmental issues since it recognizes the importance of the environment and potential pollution from the abovementioned production process. Moreover, TAE is certified with ISO 14001:2004 in 2009. It is proven that TAE has a good environmental management according to the required standard.

(9) Risk from the Compliance with the Loan Agreements with Financial Institutions

(9.1) Debt to Equity Ratio (D/E) and Debt Service Coverage Ratio (DSCR) Maintenance

TAE entered into a loan agreement with Commercial Bank No. 1 for the purpose of the construction of the Ethanol Production Line No. 2 in September 2009. Later on December 18, 2013, TAE refinanced the loan with Commercial Bank No. 1 by taking a loan of approximately Baht 838 million from Commercial Bank No. 2 and repaying the full amount of debt to Commercial Bank No. 1. TAE has also received a short-term loan as a promissory note of Baht 900 million from Commercial Bank No. 2 to be used as working capital in raw material procurement. By this, Commercial Bank No. 2 has required TAE to maintain the D/E ratio at no more than 2 times, and the DSCR at no less than 1.25 times. In case of TAE unable to maintain such condition, the lending bank may demand for full repayment of the loans immediately, which will ultimately affect the liquidity and business operation of TAE. In 2013, TAE could not maintain the DSCR, but Commercial Bank No. 2 has waived off such condition. Additionally, TAE has always received a cordial support from the commercial bank. With the request of the initial public offering and the listing in the Stock Exchange of Thailand in the future, TAE shall be able to mobilize required funding and enable another option of lending from financial institutions. It will also has a more appropriate capital structure.

(9.2) Maintenance of shareholding of Lanna in TAE of no less than 50 percent of all shares during the whole duration of the loan agreement

Commercial Bank No. 2 has determined a condition concerning the maintenance of shareholding of Lanna in TAE of no less than 50 percent of all shares during the whole duration of the loan agreement. Therefore, if Lanna sells its shares in TAE and the shareholding proportion in TAE decreases to less than 50 percent of all shares, TAE has the risk of breaching the loan agreement condition, and the lending bank may demand a full repayment of loan, which will ultimately affect the liquidity and the operation of TAE. Accordingly, the management has informed the Board of Directors of Lanna regarding such condition. If Lanna plans to decrease its shareholding proportion in TAE in the future, a written notification is needed to be sent to TAE so that TAE may negotiate with the lending bank without breaching the loan agreement.

(9.3) A written approval from the bank is required before TAE can incur more debt

Commercial Bank No. 2 has determined that TAE needs to receive a written approval from the lending bank before it can incur more debt. This may inhibit TAE from sourcing another loan from other commercial bank in the future, and may affect its liquidity. It may also need to rely on the credit from a sole commercial bank, which bear some risk in case that TAE does not receive a financial support from the commercial bank. Accordingly, TAE has considered that the current available short-term loan is adequate for the working capital. Additionally, TAE has planned the initial public offering and the listing in the Stock Exchange of Thailand in the near future, which will allow TAE to seek funding from other sources in the future.

(10) Risk of TAE being unable to pay dividend to shareholders in the future

Commercial Bank No. 2 has determined that TAE may not pay dividend to its shareholders if TAE is unable to follow the conditions in the loan agreement – such as, D/E and DSCR maintenance, shareholding of Lanna, etc. – TAE will not be able to pay dividend to its shareholders, including Lanna. Currently, TAE is negotiating with Commercial Bank No. 2 to consider adjust the DSCR maintenance condition as appropriate.

(11) Risk from Being Dependent on Core Managers in Business Operations

The core managers in both production and sales of TAE are knowledgeable and have experience in ethanol business for more than ten years. Moreover, TAE is the first ethanol producer that is certified as an oil trader according to Section 10 of Fuel Trade Act B.E. 2543, the management has deep knowledge and skills in the industry. Having a long-term good relationship with customers and suppliers, the product and services of TAE is well trusted among customers which are major oil companies. As a result, TAE may have the risk from being dependent on the core managers in business operations, and changes of the core managers may affect the management of TAE. Regardless, most of the core managers and personnel have worked with TAE since its establishment, and TAE has placed a policy regarding training for employee at every level. The experience has been shared and training is held on regular basis with the purpose to enable the employee to be skillful and fully knowledgeable in their job. Moreover, TAE promotes the advancement in career path and continuous growth within the company.

(12) Risk from a Civil Case of TAE

TAE is involved in a legal case with a company (as “Plaintiff”), who filed a complaint to the Civil Court on September 23, 2011, claiming that TAE (as “Defendant”) is in breach of a cassava chip sale and purchase agreement and a cassava sale and purchase memorandum, and demanding damage of Baht 186.85 million. Later on November 8, 2011, TAE testified and made a counterclaim by demanding damage from the other company of Baht 82.41. Currently, the civil case is under the process of examination. If the court deems of TAE to pay for the damage claimed by the Plaintiff, it will negatively affect the asset, the financial status, and the liquidity of TAE. Regardless, the Board and the management of TAE believe that TAE is able to win the case. The lawyer representing TAE has an opinion that after considering the documentary evidence, witness, and facts of the case, TAE should win the case since it did not breach the abovementioned cassava sale and purchase agreement and the cassava sale and purchase memorandum.

Financial Risk

(1) Loan-Related Risk: Lanna Resources Public Co., Ltd. had no loan in year 2013, and therefore, has no risk related to loan. Two subsidiary companies that have engaged in loan used for working capital are as follows:

(a) Thai Agro Energy Public Co., Ltd., a subsidiary company in Thailand, has both short-term and long-term loans as reported in Risks in Ethanol Business.

(b) PT. Singlurus Pratama, a subsidiary company in Indonesia, has an outstanding short-term loan of USD 4.8 million, using the market rate at the time of lending, and therefore has minimal risk concerning the change of the interest rate.

(2) Overseas Investment Risk: Lanna Resources Public Co., Ltd. has investments in the subsidiary and associated companies overseas in several currencies including Singapore Dollars, US Dollars and Indonesian Rupiahs, of which are long term investments without definite term period, and therefore, there is currently no risk mitigation in place. If the time of project termination was known, this risk could be managed promptly and appropriately.

(3) Foreign Exchange Risk: Lanna Resources Public Co., Ltd. has revenues from coal sales in Thai Baht currency and coal procurements for sales are done in US Dollar currency. While the revenues for coal sales of the subsidiary companies in Indonesia are in US Dollar but their operating expenses are paid in US Dollar and Indonesian Rupiah. As for the associated company in Singapore, the revenues are in US Dollar; however, the operating expenses are paid in US Dollar and Singapore Dollar. As a result, the Company and its affiliates possess foreign exchange related risk from changes of the aforementioned currency values. Accordingly, the Company mitigates the risk related to foreign exchange by entering into forward exchange contracts or deposit of foreign currencies received from coal sales to the Company's various bank accounts as cash reserves for payments of coals or future investments, protecting from possible future foreign exchange risk. In the past year, the foreign exchange is managed satisfactory, and there was no significant impact to the Company and its subsidiary companies.

Other Factors Having Impact on Investment

- The Extraordinary General Meeting of Shareholders No. 1/2013 on September 18, 2013 has approved the spin-off plan for the listing of Thai Agro Energy Public Co., Ltd. in the Stock Exchange of Thailand with newly issued ordinary shares of 200,000,000 shares and ordinary shares originally held by Lanna of 96,037,733 shares, totaling 296,037,733 shares by initial public offering with 191,000,000 shares, or 64.52 percent of the offered shares, and by pre-emptive right of the shareholders of Lanna with 105,037,733 shares, or 35.48 percent of the offered shares. The purpose was to raise fund required for improvement on the production and the distribution of ethanol for fuel and also as working capital in the future. The transactions should occur in 2014.

- Apart from the aforementioned transactions, the Company and its subsidiary companies have no commitments or obligations regarding issued shares, warrants, convertible securities, debentures or other types of derivatives currently or in the future, as well as there are no unusual or serious event or important incident that might significantly affect financial status and operating results of the Company and its subsidiary companies.

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Shareholders of Lanna Resources Public Company Limited

I have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Lanna Resources Public Company Limited and its subsidiaries, which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2013, and the related consolidated statements of income, comprehensive income, changes in shareholders' equity and cash flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information, and have also audited the separate financial statements of Lanna Resources Public Company Limited for the same period.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Thai Financial Reporting Standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit. I conducted my audit in accordance with Thai Standards on Auditing. Those standards require that I comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

Opinion

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Lanna Resources Public Company Limited and its subsidiaries and of Lanna Resources Public Company Limited as at 31 December 2013, and their financial performance and cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with Thai Financial Reporting Standards.

Emphasis of matter

I draw attention to Note 4 to the financial statements regarding the change in accounting policy due to the adoption of Thai Accounting Standard 12 Income Taxes. The Company has restated the consolidated and separate financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2012, presented herein as comparative information, to reflect the adjustment resulting from such change. The Company has also presented the consolidated and separate statements of financial position as at 1 January 2012 as comparative information, using the newly adopted accounting policy for income taxes. My opinion is not qualified in respect of this matter.

5. Significant accounting policies

5.1 Revenue Recognition

Sales of goods

Sales of goods are recognised when the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods have passed to the buyer. Sales are the invoiced value, excluding value added tax, of goods supplied after deducting discounts and allowances.

Income from coal sales are recorded according to the weight as recorded at the Company's site or the customer's site. Adjustments of the sales price due to quality and weight considerations are recognised in the month in which notification is received from customers.

Commission and marketing service income

Commission and marketing service income are recognised on an accrual basis when oversea subsidiary companies sell coal to the buyer who the Company provides to subsidiary companies.

Service income

Service income is recognised on an accrual basis when a subsidiary company sells coal which is produced from its concession area to the buyer.

Interest income

Interest income is recognised on an accrual basis based on the effective interest rate.

Dividends

Dividends are recognised when the right to receive the dividends is established.

5.2 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash in hand and at banks, and all highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less and not subject to withdrawal restrictions.

5.3 Trade accounts receivable

Trade accounts receivable are stated at the net realisable value. Allowance for doubtful accounts is provided for the estimated losses that may be incurred in collection of receivables. The allowance is generally based on collection experiences and analysis of debt aging.

5.4 Inventories

Inventories are valued at the lower of average cost and net realisable value. Cost of finished goods and work in process include cost of material, labour and overheads.

Supplies are value at the lower of average cost and net realisable and are charged to production costs whenever consumed.

Allowance for diminution in inventory value is provided for the excess of cost over the net realisable value of inventories and for slow moving or deteriorated inventories.

Net realisable value is selling price in normal course of business less other costs incurred to sell the goods.

5.5 Cassava plantation costs

Cassava plantation costs consist of costs and expenses which are directly related to cassava plant and plantation activities and are incurred before the production period. Cassava plantation costs are stated at cost and are amortised when cassava plants are ready for harvest over the harvest period between 8 and 10 months.

5.6 Sugar cane plantation costs

Sugar cane plantation costs consist of costs and expenses which are directly related to sugar cane plant and plantation activities and are incurred before the production period. Sugar cane plantation costs are stated at cost and are amortised when sugar cane plants are ready for harvest over the harvest period of 10 to 13 months.

5.7 Investments

- a) Investment in associated company is accounted for in the consolidated financial statements using the equity method.
- b) Investments in subsidiaries and associated company are accounted for in the separate financial statements using the cost method.

5.8 Investment properties

Investment properties, which are plots of land, are initially measured at cost, including transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are stated at cost less allowance for loss on impairment (if any).

On disposal of investment properties, the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset is recognised in profit or loss in the period when the asset is derecognised.

5.9 Property, plant and equipment and depreciation

Land is stated at cost. Buildings and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and allowance for loss on impairment of assets (if any).

The cost of property, plant and equipment also includes the initial estimate of the cost of dismantling and removing an item and restoring the site on which it is located, the obligation for which an entity incurs either when the item is acquired or as a consequence of having used the item during a particular period for purposes other than to produce inventories during that period.

Depreciation of plant and equipment is calculated by reference to their costs on the straight-line basis over the following estimated useful lives:

Land improvement	5 - 10 years
Buildings and amenities	16 - 30 years
Machinery and equipment	4 - 30 years
Furniture and office equipment	3 - 10 years
Vehicles	5 - 10 years

Depreciation is included in determining income.

No depreciation is provided on assets under construction and installation, land improvement of a local subsidiary company and land, except for mining land which is depleted in accordance with the difference between its purchase cost and fair value and on the basis of units produced in proportion to the total coal reserves.

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on disposal of an asset is included in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised.

5.10 Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalised as part of the cost of the respective assets. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period they are incurred. Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds.

5.11 Intangible assets

Intangible assets are initially recognised at cost. Following the initial recognition, the intangible assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses (if any).

Intangible assets with finite lives are amortised on a systematic basis over the economic useful life and tested for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The amortisation period and the amortisation method of such intangible assets are reviewed at least at each financial year end. The amortisation expense is charged to profit or loss.

Intangible asset with finite useful lives, which is computer software, has useful lives of 3 - 10 years.

Deferred overburden removal costs and other deferred expenses are charged as expenses in accordance with the proportion of units produced to total coal reserves.

Amortisation of the development expenses of the various projects commences upon the start of production. In case when the future benefit of these assets is in doubt, they are written off to period expenses immediately.

5.12 Goodwill

Goodwill is initially recorded at cost, which equals to the excess of cost of business combination over the fair value of the net assets acquired. If the fair value of the net assets acquired exceeds the cost of business combination, the excess is immediately recognised as gain in the profit or loss.

Goodwill is carried at cost less any accumulated impairment losses (if any). Goodwill is tested for impairment annually and when circumstances indicate that the carrying value may be impaired.

For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is allocated to each of the Company's cash generating units (or group of cash-generating units) that are expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination. The Company estimates the recoverable amount of each cash-generating unit (or group of cash-generating units) to which the goodwill relates. Where the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit is less than the carrying amount, an impairment loss is recognised in profit or loss. Impairment losses relating to goodwill cannot be reversed in future periods.

5.13 Related party transactions

Related parties comprise enterprises and individuals that control, or are controlled by, the Company, whether directly or indirectly, or which are under common control with the Company.

They also include associated companies and individuals which directly or indirectly own a voting interest in the Company that gives them significant influence over the Company, key management personnel, directors, and officers with authority in the planning and direction of the Company's operations.

5.14 Long-term leases

Leases of assets which do not transfer substantially all the significant risk and rewards of ownership are classified as operating leases. Operating lease payments are recognised as an expense in the profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

5.15 Foreign currencies

The consolidated and separate financial statements are presented in Baht, which is also the Company's functional currency. Items of each entity included in the consolidated financial statements are measured using the functional currency of that entity.

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated into Baht at the exchange rate ruling at the date of the transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into Baht at the exchange rate ruling at the end of reporting period.

Gains and losses on exchange are included in determining income.

5.16 Impairment of assets

At the end of each reporting period, the Company and its subsidiaries perform impairment reviews in respect of the property, plant and equipment and other intangible assets whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that an asset may be impaired. The Company also carries out annual impairment reviews in respect of goodwill. An impairment loss is recognised when the recoverable amount of an asset, which is the higher of the asset's fair value less costs to sell and its value in use, is less than the carrying amount. In determining value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. In determining fair value less costs to sell, an appropriate valuation model is used. These calculations are corroborated by a valuation model that, based on information available, reflects the amount that the Company and its subsidiaries could obtain from the disposal of the asset in an arm's length transaction between knowledgeable, willing parties, after deducting the costs of disposal.

An impairment loss is recognised in profit or loss.

In the assessment of asset impairment if there is any indication that previously recognised impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased, the Company and its subsidiaries estimate the asset's recoverable amount. A previously recognised impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the assumptions used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognised. The increased carrying amount of the asset attributable to a reversal of an impairment loss shall not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognised in profit or loss.

5.17 Employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits

Salaries, wages, bonuses and contributions to the social security fund are recognised as expenses when incurred.

Post-employment benefits

Defined contribution plans

The Company, a subsidiary and their employees have jointly established a provident fund. The fund is monthly contributed by employees and by the Company and the subsidiary. The fund's assets are held in a separate trust fund and the Company's and the subsidiary's contributions are recognised as expenses when incurred.

Defined benefit plans

The Company and its subsidiaries have obligations in respect of the severance payments they must make to employees upon retirement under labor law. The Company and its subsidiaries treat these severance payment obligations as a defined benefit plan.

The obligation under the defined benefit plan is determined by professionally qualified independent actuaries based on actuarial techniques, using the projected unit credit method.

Actuarial gains and losses arising from post-employment benefits are recognised immediately in profit or loss.

For the first-time adoption of TAS 19 Employee Benefits in 2011, the Company and its subsidiaries elected to recognise the transitional liability, which exceeds the liability that would have been recognised at the same date under the previous accounting policy, immediately as an expense in profit or loss for the year 2011.

5.18 Government grants related to assets

Government grants are recognised when there is reasonable assurance that the grants will be received and all attached conditions will be complied with. Government grants related to assets are presented as a deducting to the value of the related assets and are recognised in profit or loss over the useful life of the assets as a reduced depreciation expense.

5.19 Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Company and its subsidiaries have a present obligation as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

5.20 Provision for mine reclamation

The subsidiaries recognise a provision for mine reclamation where an obligation exists. The estimated amount of the eventual costs relating to the site restoration and reclamation is discounted to its present value. Such costs are included in profit or loss based on the unit-of-production method on the total estimated reclamation costs over the total proven reserves.

5.21 Income tax

Income tax expense represents the sum of corporate income tax currently payable and deferred tax.

Current tax

Current income tax is provided in the accounts at the amount expected to be paid to the taxation authorities, based on taxable profits determined in accordance with tax legislation.

Deferred tax

Deferred income tax is provided on temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts at the end of each reporting period, using the tax rates enacted at the end of the reporting period.

The Company and its subsidiaries recognise deferred tax liabilities for all taxable temporary differences while they recognise deferred tax assets for all deductible temporary differences and tax losses carried forward to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which such deductible temporary differences and tax losses carried forward can be utilised.

At each reporting date, the Company and its subsidiaries review and reduce the carrying amount of deferred tax assets to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised.

The Company and its subsidiaries record deferred tax directly to shareholders' equity if the tax relates to items that are recorded directly to shareholders' equity.

5.22 Derivatives

Forward exchange contracts

Receivables and payables arising from forward exchange contracts are translated into Baht at the rates of exchange ruling at the end of reporting period. Unrecognised gains and losses from the translation are included in determining income. Premiums or discounts on forward exchange contracts are amortised on a straight-line basis over the contract periods.

6. Significant accounting judgements and estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with financial reporting standards at times requires management to make subjective judgements and estimates regarding matters that are inherently uncertain. These judgements and estimates affect reported amounts and disclosures; and actual results could differ from these estimates. Significant judgements and estimates are as follows:

Leases

In determining whether a lease is to be classified as an operating lease or finance lease, the management is required to use judgement regarding whether significant risk and rewards of ownership of the leased asset has been transferred, taking into consideration terms and conditions of the arrangement.

Allowance for doubtful accounts

In determining an allowance for doubtful accounts, the management needs to make judgement and estimates based upon, among other things, past collection history, aging profile of outstanding debts and the prevailing economic condition.

Allowance for diminution in inventory value

In determining an allowance for diminution in inventory value, the management needs to make judgement in estimating loss from slow moving and deteriorated inventories including the effect from declining in net realisable value of inventories.

Property, plant and equipment and depreciation

In determining depreciation of plant and equipment, the management is required to make estimates of the useful lives and residual values of the plant and equipment and to review estimate useful lives and residual values when there are any changes.

In addition, the management is required to review property, plant and equipment for impairment on a periodical basis and record impairment losses when it is determined that their recoverable amount is lower than the carrying amount. This requires judgements regarding forecast of future revenues and expenses relating to the assets subject to the review.

Goodwill and intangible assets

The initial recognition and measurement of goodwill and other intangible assets, and subsequent impairment testing, require management to make estimates of cash flows to be generated by the asset or the cash generating units and to choose a suitable discount rate in order to calculate the present value of those cash flows.

Deferred tax assets

Deferred tax assets are recognised for deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences and losses can be utilised. Significant management judgement is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognised, based upon the likely timing and level of estimate future taxable profits.

Post-employment benefits under defined benefit plans

The obligation under the defined benefit plan is determined based on actuarial techniques. Such determination is made based on various assumptions, including discount rate, future salary increase rate, mortality rate and staff turnover rate.

Provision for mine reclamation

The majority of the decommissioning and reclamation costs is incurred at the end of a mine's life. In determining a provision for such costs, the management needs to make judgement regarding the expected future costs to be incurred, the timing of these expected future costs, largely dependent on the life of the mine, and the estimated future level of inflation.

Litigation

The Company and the subsidiaries have contingent liabilities as a result of litigation. The management has used judgement to assess the results of the litigation and believes that no loss will result. Therefore, no contingent liabilities are recorded as at the end of reporting period.

On 6 May 2008, the Company made advance payment amounting to USD 2 million to Saraburi Resources Pte. Ltd. according to the agreement for sales and purchase of steam coal of 2 million tons. Saraburi Resources Pte. Ltd. was obliged to start delivering coal within January 2009 but it was unable to comply with the agreement. The Company had sued Saraburi Resource Pte. Ltd. and guarantors, and on 23 May 2011, the arbitrator of SIAC ordered Saraburi Resources Pte. FINANCIAL ANALYSIS AND OPERATING RESULTS

(For the Consolidated Financial Statements of Year 2013)

OVERALL OPERATING RESULTS

The Company's revenue and net profit of year 2013 were Baht 12,162.73 million and Baht 582.87 million, respectively, which decreased from the previous year by 9.57 and 36.03 percent due to the continuously falling global coal prices, resulting in decreases in revenue and net profit from coal business. Additionally, although the revenue from ethanol business increased due to the a continuous increase in average ethanol sale price in accordance with the increasing domestic ethanol demand – a result from the government's termination of Gasoline 91 and promotion of the manufacture of E20 and E85 compatible vehicles – the price of molasses, which is a raw material, has been increasing as well. As a result, the net profit from ethanol business also decreased.

COAL BUSINESS: With the continuous decline in coal prices in the global market since 2012, the Company has been continually changing its coal production and distribution strategies as follows: (1) The cost of mine operation is reduced and the efficiency of coal production is increased by decreasing the cost of coal winning, which is the major cost. (2) The product mix is carefully select by choosing only those with high price and highly profitable. (3) Outsourced coal is blended with low quality coal from the Company's own mine in order to improve the quality of the coal so that it can be sold at higher price, resulting in higher profitability.

Regardless, although the operating results of coal business have decreased, the profit is still maintained continuously.

ETHANOL BUSINESS: The average ethanol selling price has a continuous upward trend due to an increase in the price of molasses, a major raw material. Additionally, the average domestic ethanol consumption has increased from 1.37 million liters at the end of 2012 to 2.57 million liters per day in 2013 due to the termination of Gasoline 91 and an increased promotion for automobiles that use Gasohol E20 and E85. As result, the demand for ethanol for blending with gasoline for gasohol production is increasing continuously.

In summary, as for the overall operating result of the ethanol business, the revenue and net profit of year 2013, according to the Company's shareholding proportion, were Baht 1,659.05 million and Baht 88.44 million, respectively. Although the revenue increased from the previous year by 22.91 percent, the net profit decreased from last year by 28.26 percent due to an increase in molasses raw material price as described above. Regardless, the profit from the operating results of ethanol business is still maintained.

(4) Investment in coal business is during downtrend period according to economic crisis and falling coal prices and therefore, the Company has delayed investment in the new coal concession and expects that there shall be no investment in 2014. Nonetheless, the Company should have no problem as there are still remaining coal reserves in both coal concessions in Indonesia which can still produce coal for several more years. As for investment in the ethanol business in 2014, there will be construction of a 1-megawatt of power generating system using biogas fuel with investment of about Baht 51 million. The project completion and commencement of power generation are scheduled within the 3rd quarter of 2014. The electricity shall be used within the ethanol production plant which shall further reduce cost of ethanol production. In addition, there will also be investment in construction of two molasses tanks totaling 20,000 tons in volume capacity, having investment budget of about Baht 60 million, in order to increase the volume of molasses storage from 40,000 tons to 60,000 tons for flexibility in receiving and storing molasses used as the main raw material for ethanol production. This will help with the cost management making the ethanol production cost lower and more effective. The source of investment fund for these projects comes from its own cash generation.

DEBT OBLIGATION

Thai Agro Energy Public Co., Ltd. (TAE) is a subsidiary company in a business of ethanol production and distribution for fuel purpose, having obligation according to the terms and conditions of the loan agreement with a local commercial bank as follows.

(1) TAE must to maintain its debt to equity ratio (D/E) of no less than 2 times and debt service coverage ratio (DSCR) of no less than 1.25 times. It appears that on the last day of year 2013, TAE could not maintain the DSCR as required by the contractual obligation of the loan. Regardless, the lending bank has issued a letter dated December 27, 2013 to waive such conditions. In the meantime, TAE is requesting for an adjustment of the DSCR condition so that it is more appropriate for the changing economic situation.

(2) The lending bank has determined that Lanna Resources Public Co., Ltd. (Lanna) must maintain its shareholding proportion in TAE of no less than 50 percent of the total number of shares during the whole duration of the loan agreement. Accordingly, Lanna has no plan to decrease its shareholding proportion in TAE below than 50 percent.

(3) A written approval from the lender bank is required before TAE can accrue more debts. Currently, TAE has adequate credit line for its working capital. Additionally, TAE has planned to initiate an initial public offering and the listing in the Stock Exchange of Thailand in the near future, allowing more funding, and the capital structure of TAE should be more financially sound.

(4) The lending bank has determined that TAE will not be able to pay dividend to its shareholders, including Lanna, if TAE cannot comply the conditions of loan agreement, for example, the maintenance of D/E ratio, DSCR, and shareholding proportion of Lanna in TAE. Currently, TAE is requesting for an adjustment of the DSCR condition so that it is more appropriate for the changing economic situation as described above. Accordingly, TAE has never breached the conditions of loan agreements and has been given good supports from lending banks.

IMPACTS TO FUTURE OPERATIONS

- It is expected that coal prices in 2014 will fluctuate and continue to move in a low price level as there is still excess supply of coal and remains the economic crisis in several countries around the world. Accordingly, the Company has set out a strategy to reduce the production and distribution cost in line with the reduction of coal prices. At the same time, the Company has reviewed its investment plan in the new coal concessions by delaying the investment and wait for appropriate time and opportunity as described above. Regarding the ethanol business, the ethanol selling price for 2014 should be higher than in the past year 2013; however, the price of raw material, molasses, has continued to increase also. Nonetheless, the Company can still be profitable from both businesses by putting emphasis on the cost and expense reduction strategy. Accordingly, the Company shall endeavor to manage and resolve all the problems with prudence to ensure and continue with good operating results in 2014.

- The Extraordinary General Meeting of Shareholders No. 1/2013 on September 18, 2013, has approved the spin-off plan for the listing of Thai Agro Energy Public Co., Ltd. in the Stock Exchange of Thailand with newly issued ordinary shares of 200,000,000 shares and ordinary shares originally held by Lanna of 96,037,733 shares, totaling 296,037,733 shares by initial public offering with 191,000,000 shares, or 64.52 percent of the offered shares, and by pre-emptive right of the shareholders of Lanna with 105,037,733 shares, or 35.48 percent of the offered shares. The purpose was to raise fund required for improvement on the production and the distribution of ethanol for fuel and also as working capital in the future. The transactions should occur in 2014, resulting in a reduction of shareholding proportion of Lanna in TAE from 75.75 percent to 51 percent of the paid-up capital after the completion of the spin-off plan. Regardless, TAE shall still remain a subsidiary company of Lanna.
